Welcome to Peer Tutoring

at the Academic Resource Center

Peer tutors are typically available in select introductory STEM and problem-set courses. However, you may submit a request for any course you are registered in at the College. Not every request can be accommodated as ARC makes matches only when a qualified tutor can be identified. For a writing tutor, please visit the Harvard College Writing Center.

Request a Peer Tutor

By requesting a tutor, you acknowledge that you have read and understood the policies of the Academic Resource Center. Please review program policies on the ARC website academicresourcecenter.harvard.edu

Questions? Email academicresourcecenter@harvard.edu

3. Student will now see the “ARC Peer Tutor Request Form – Step 1 of 2.” Student should select the course that want to request a tutor for from the “Select a course” drop-down menu or by typing in the course number if the course they want a tutor for does not appear in that drop-down menu. Then, click the “Next” button.

4. The “ARC Peer Tutor Request Form – Step 2 of 2” page will now appear. They should fill in the “Additional Information” field as explicitly as possible, so the tutor knows exactly what the student wants to work on. Then, the student needs to read the “Honor code” statement and enter their name into the “Electronic Signature (Enter Your Name Here)” box to acknowledge the statement. Finally, click the “Submit” button to submit the peer tutor request.
